One of the many new shows opening tomorrow is The Shining Path by Hungarian painter Zsolt Bodoni at Green Art Gallery.

His dream-like canvases depict figures dancing but also attempt to unpeel the layers of both Eastern and Western history and therefore “function in an archaeological manner”.

I look forward to finding out more and meeting the artist in person.

* The Shining Path opens at Green Art Gallery tomorrow at 7pm. For more info visit www.gagallery.com
